

A Guide to our Wills & Lasting Power of Attorney Services for divorce and separation

Our team, supporting you

The impact of divorce & separation

We understand that navigating legal matters can be daunting, especially during times of significant life changes such as divorce or separation.

It is important to note that a separation does not alter the effect of a Will and to ensure your assets pass to those you wish to inherit from you, it is sensible to consider if your current Will meets your requirements.

A final order in your divorce means that whilst your Will remains valid the provisions relating to your ex-spouse are affected so your Will must be reviewed.

Process

1. Initial Consultation: Schedule an appointment with Madeline to discuss your needs and goals.
2. Document Review: We will review your existing Wills and LPAs, if applicable, and recommend necessary updates.
3. Drafting and Finalising: If necessary, we will draft your new documents and work with you to finalise and register them.

Our Services

Wills

- Drafting and Updating Wills: We help you create a comprehensive Will that reflects your current wishes, ensuring your assets are distributed according to your desires.
- Estate Planning: Our team provides expert advice on structuring your estate to minimize taxes and ensure your beneficiaries receive their intended inheritance.
- Guardianship Provisions: We assist in appointing guardians for minor children, giving you peace of mind that your loved ones will be cared for by trusted individuals.

Lasting Powers of Attorney (LPA)

- Property and Financial Affairs LPA: This allows you to appoint someone you trust to manage your finances and property if you become unable to do so.
- Health and Welfare LPA: This enables you to appoint a trusted person to make healthcare and personal welfare decisions on your behalf if you lose capacity.
- LPA Registration and Guidance: We handle the registration process and provide guidance on selecting suitable attorneys and understanding their responsibilities.
